AN OPAL CANNOT BE LOST.

Apparent Verification of a Virtue Claimed For the Alleged Unlucky Gem.

A wealthy broker of West Philadelphia had a rather singular experience the other day. He and his family have had in their possession for a number of years some very handsome opals, but the superstition which was formerly entertained concerning the stone being unlucky prevented him making use of the gems. Last year he took a trip to Europe. While in London he met at the house of a mutual friend a dealer in precious stones, who had just come from Graciosa a Dias, in Honduras, and had brought back some fine gems.

Instead of putting any faith in the popular superstition this gentleman believed in the opal very thoroughly and attributed to it the virtues which no other gem possessed. Among the things which he said about it was that the opal was attached to its owner by invisible cords and that it was impossible to lose it, though it might be mislaid. The Philadelphia broker on his return to Philadelphia chose the finest opal in his collection, had it set in a ring, surrounded by small diamonds, and at Christmas presented it to his wife. It was truly a beauty, and she wore it with conscious pride.

One day on returning from a day's outing she received quite a shock—the opal was gone. Search proved vain. No trace of the stone could she discover. Not only on account of its value, but because she knew how highly her husband prized the stone, she hated to inform him of her loss. At last she felt obliged to do so, when, greatly to her astonishment, he drew from his vest pocket a tiny package and presented it to her. Upon opening it what was her delight when she recognized her lost opal.

More astonishing still, her husband affirmed that while he was walking down Chestnut street a day or two before he felt something under the sole of his shoe, which upon investigation proved to be the opal which he had last seen shimmering upon his wife's finger. There was no doubt about it being the lost one, for the powder who had set it recognized it also.—Philadelphia Times.

EARTHQUAKE SCIENCE.

The Internal Fires of Earth and the Cracking of the Upper Crust.

It has long been the popular belief that volcanoes were the cause of earthquakes, and many scientists have held to this theory, but Professor John Milne, F. R. S., who has recently been investigating the causes of earthquakes in Japan, in connection with the University of Tokyo, made the statement in a lecture that most of these shakings, probably 92 per cent, were caused by fractures of the earth's crust.

He explained that the earth's crust was in perpetual motion, and the tremor was either so slight as to be imperceptible or so great that it might plainly be felt. It is not, he said, necessary to go to Japan or South America to study earthquakes, for an earthquake in one part of the world can, by proper instruments, easily be recorded in another.

"The inside of the earth is hot," said Professor Milne, "and the crust is constantly breaking downward, and as it accommodates itself to what is underneath, the surface of the earth's crust becomes pulled up, and mountains and hills are formed. When any interruption takes place in the process of the internal crumbling of the crust of the earth, there is a disturbance producing a violent shaking, which is called an earthquake. If a big shaking takes place in any part of the world, the motion is sufficient to be perceptible over the whole surface of the earth."

"In countries where there are volcanoes earthquakes are most frequent, but they are not all directly attributable to the volcanoes. When the ground opening upward is near the ocean or other great body of water, volcanoes are found there, for volcanic action is due to steam from water in heated rocks, the water having soaked through from the surface."

"In Japan earthquakes, great or small, are of such frequent occurrence that people there do not talk about the weather, as they do almost everywhere else in the world, but you are asked what you thought of the last earthquake, and there is much guessing and betting on the earthquakes that are to come."

A Question of Physics.

The omnibus was about half full when the masher got in and took a seat next the pretty girl. He had placed himself superfluously close to her, and she edged away, but little by little he crowded up to her until she was jammed into the corner. The situation was painful, and was complicated by the glare of the women on the other side. She wondered if they thought she liked it.

The pretty girl turned on her pursuer. "If you want my place, sir," she said, "I shall be happy to rise and give it to you, but please don't try to occupy it while I am in it."

And the masher pulled the strap and got out.—New York Journal.

Watermarks were originally used on bank notes as a means of preventing counterfeits.

MANLY VIGOR

ONCE MORE in harmony with the world, 2000 completely cured men are singing happy praises for the greatest, grandest and most successful cure for sexual weakness and loss of vigor known to medical science. An account of this wonderful discovery, in book form, with references and proofs, will be sent to you free of charge. Write to ERIE MEDICAL CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

Women exchange confidences about their own health and that of their husbands. A man's physical well being is closely watched by a thoughtful wife. It is part of her duty in the world to keep him well. If she sees him running down, she should take measures to stop it. Very few men enjoy being sick. They won't admit even to themselves that they are sick. They will go on losing flesh and vitality—working too hard—worrying too hard—taking little or no care of their health. Maybe they need only a little help to be made well. Maybe a good simple tonic is all they require. It is something more serious. Whichever it is, it should be attended to. When a man gets really sick, his work stops. He can't tend to business. He loses all he has previously gained. Actual want may stare him in the face. It doesn't pay to get sick, or to stay sick. There's no need of doing either. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will prevent sickness. It is a blood purifier and a flesh builder. It restores perfect digestion and insures perfect assimilation of the food. It is a powerful enemy to germs and will search them out in all parts of the body, forcing their evacuation. It has been proven by the written testimony of hundreds of grateful people that the "Golden Medical Discovery" will even cure 98 per cent of all cases of consumption if taken in its early stages. A book of 1000 pages containing testimonials and much valuable health talk will be sent on receipt of 25 cents to cover postage and wrapping only. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, BUFFALO, N. Y.

McKINLEY'S CHANCES AND POSITION.

The time for electing delegates to the Republican National Convention has expired and all the States and Territories, except Alaska, have been heard from. The convention will consist of 918 delegates. There are contesting delegations from nearly all the Southern States and from Arizona and some districts in the North. The Chicago Tribune makes up the following table from the preferences of the delegates. This may be changed somewhat when the contests are decided:

Instructed for, or favoring McKinley	584
Instructed for, or favoring Reed	86
Instructed for, or favoring Morton	33
Instructed for, or favoring Quay	14
Instructed for, or favoring Allison	10
Instructed for, or favoring Bradley	10
Uncertain	78
Total	918
Necessary for a choice	470

The leaders and press of the party are demanding that Major McKinley declare himself on the financial question. They agree that as he was once for free coinage and subsequently for the gold standard, he must define his present position or prepare for opposition from the silver men of the West or the gold standard men of the East, that may result in his defeat. The New York Commercial Advertiser, a straight gold standard paper, says:

When men proclaim that the currency is not an issue and advise the Republican convention to evade it by a straddling platform, they insult the intelligence of the American people. The currency is not only an issue, but it is the first issue in silver States and in gold States, in the East and in the West. It is discussed with intense interest wherever two or three men are gathered together, and it is the leading editorial topic in three-fourths of the newspapers of the United States.

The Advertiser is intensely Republican and it says McKinley should speak now, as there is nothing to gain by delay, and his silence would give the Democrats more than a fighting chance. The Philadelphia Ledger, also a Republican paper, says Major McKinley is jeopardizing not only his own prospects of success by his cynical and contemptuous silence on the financial question, but he is putting in peril the otherwise certain victory of the Republican party.

It is conceded East and West that a straddling platform will not serve the purpose of the politicians this year. Heretofore the object of the national platform makers of the Republican and Democratic parties was to deceive the West by meaningless phrases such as "maintaining the parity," "interconvertibility," etc. This year all parties recognize the necessity of an unequivocal declaration on the financial question and nothing less will satisfy the people, as all admit that the fight must be a square one between the advocates of the free coinage of gold and silver and the adherents of the single gold standard.

AN EXCELLENT IDEA.

The time set by Mr. Reed and his lieutenants for Congress to adjourn, namely, May 18th, has expired, and Congress is still in session. It takes two to make a bargain when the question of adjourning the long session of Congress is involved.

Both houses must agree, as the Constitution provides that neither house shall adjourn for more than three days without the consent of the other. The Senate did not agree to adjourn on May 18th, hence the action of the House is not decisive.

It has been suggested that Congress remain in session until after the National Conventions, and embody the principal points of the platforms in a bill to be passed by the Silver men in the Senate and sent to the House. If both houses failed to agree on the measure then the question would be submitted to the people. For instance the Silver men are opposed to issuing bonds for gold when there is considerable over $250,000,000 available cash in the Treasury. The gold men, led by Sherman and Frye on the Republican side, and Hill and Vilas on the Democratic side, favor the issuance of bonds, though it seems probable that the Republican Convention will declare against it, notwithstanding one of the very first acts of the present House was to pass a bond bill.

Much might be gained for the cause of the people by Congress remaining in session until after the conventions, but as nearly all the members have fences to repair at home, it would be difficult to keep them at Washington unless the President should send them another message, such as that of last Christmas.

RICH MINES IN ALASKA

Two members of a party of miners which went from San Francisco to Cook's Inlet, Alaska, have arrived at Port Townsend on their return for supplies. They give glowing accounts of the mining outlook in the far north. They claim to have discovered mines that will eclipse the Comstock, and as there is no contradictory evidence the claim stands unchallenged for the present. They say the company has located a mountain that will pan out three dollars to the square yard. This implies that the mines are gravel or surface diggings, not quartz. The entire country, they tell us, is rich, but a man going there must take his chances and should not make the venture without a complete outfit and sufficient money to maintain himself while there and pay his fare home.

It appears, with all these glowing reports, that Cook's Inlet is no place for a poor man. Though whole mountains average three dollars in gold to the yard, an able bodied man, willing to work, is advised to keep away unless he has plenty of money.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS

Items from Here, There and Everywhere.

When the mines at Taylor, Nevada, were in full operation, there were 600 men in the camp. To-day there are two men and about fifty empty buildings. The decline in silver knocked the camp out.

The Austin Reveille says: Had Foster, the weather prophet, been alive one hundred years ago and foretold the weather outlook as accurately as he does to-day, he would have been burned at the stake as a witch.

Colorado has always been called the "Centennial State," from the fact of its admission into the Union in the centennial year of our national history. It is said that $360,000 was drawn from the San Francisco savings banks last week to invest in Comstock mining shares.

An old flint-lock gun, smooth bore, and bearing the date of 1776, was found in a cabin on the Colville, Oregon, Indian reservation by two prospectors. They also found curiously carved beads and a scalp-lock of a woman.

A new trial was granted by a Kentucky judge because it was shown that during the hearing the jury had been permitted to imbibe six quarts of whiskey and two bottles of beer. The Court doubtless held that when a Kentucky juror gets to drinking beer he is not in a fit condition to make a judicial decision.

The Sacramento Bee tells a horrible story of the death by starvation of a child at the Foundling's home in that city. Dr. N. H. Haight is the Bee's authority for the statement. He calls attention to the fact that the mothers of these foundlings are oftentimes interested in their death, but makes no open accusations.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

A cyclone swept through the reservation near Humboldt, Nebraska, killing forty persons.

A fire at Washington, D. C., destroyed twenty-one buildings and their contents; loss, $250,000. Two firemen were killed by falling walls.

In a row at Calico, San Bernardino county, California, E. Scallard killed a man named Roland, who was a stranger in the camp. The row originated over the gaming table.

The California Miners' Association believing that the mining land bill now before Congress will pass, has selected the names of twelve gentlemen for recommendation to the President as mining commissioners. The bill divides California into four mineral land districts and provides that the President shall appoint three commissioners for each district.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and crying of your rest by a sick child suffering and broken with pain of cutting teeth, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, soothes the gums, reduces inflammation and gives Tone and Energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup."

Bitten by a Vicious Cat.

Yesterday afternoon little Wilson Thyes and Mr. W. Sanders' little boy were amusing themselves playing with a house cat, when suddenly the feline flew at the little Sanders boy exhibiting a viciousness equal to a wild beast. Young Sanders escaped and the cat turned upon Wilson, biting him badly on the ball and back of his left thumb. The sharp teeth penetrated to a considerable depth and made an ugly wound. The cat seemed wild with rage and was hard to shake off. Wilson was badly frightened as well as considerably hurt. Prompt remedies were applied and the sufferer soon made comfortable. It is thought the wound will not cause any serious trouble.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys, will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whisky nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alternative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c. per bottle at Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Might Have Been Serious

During the band parade on Virginia street a crowd of young men assembled on the awning of M. Nathan's store. The heavy weight broke one of the supports of the awning in two and there was a narrow escape from a serious accident, as the sidewalk underneath was crowded. Had the awning fallen in, several people would have been seriously injured, if not killed.

Two Lives Saved.
Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her, and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 136 Florida St. San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else, then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this remedy for coughs and colds. Free trial bottles at Hodgkinson's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. This is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or purgatives are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

"McKinley and the gold standard" is the cry in the East, and "McKinley and free coinage" is heard in the West. One faction is mistaken in the man, for staid as he may be, he cannot be for both, but McKinley will not say which.

H. P. Krause, Census Marshal, has about completed his work. There are a few scattering names yet to be added but these will not materially change the present figures. There are 900 children of school age and his report shows a loss of school children in the year of about 145, but a small increase of children of all ages over last year's return. Mr. Krause is making a very close and thorough canvass, and his report may be relied upon as correct.

In order to settle a question that is creating considerable talk regarding the tax levy for school purposes, the following is given from the Treasurer's books. In 1889 the levy was 35 cents; 1890-91, the same; 1892, 27 cents; in 1893, 15 cents; 1894, 17 cents; 1895, 16 cents; 1896, 20 cents. During the first three years mentioned the money received from the sale of school lands was comparatively small, but for the last five years it has helped to pay the school expenses, hence the reduction in the levy.

MURDER AT THE PYRAMID RESERVATION.

"Little Sam" Kills a Squaw and Fatally Wounds Another Indian.

WADSWORTH, Nev., May 18, 1896. Editor JOURNAL:—The usually quiet town of Wadsworth was rudely stirred up at an early hour this morning over the rumor of a double murder committed at the Indian Reservation. William Gleason and Allen See, the blacksmith and farmer, respectively of that institution, arrived about 1 A. M. with an Indian prisoner by the name of Sam Small, more familiarly known as "Little Sam," whom they turned over to Deputy U. S. Marshal Ike Lothrop. Both these men agree on the following story:

Some time ago a squaw who lived with George Mercer, a Reservation Indian, quarrelled with the latter and was in turn discarded by him. Little Sam then took her into his house and lived with her as man and wife. Recently she deserted Sam and went back to her first love, Mercer, who had in the meantime returned. Yesterday an Indian court convened at the Reservation for the purpose of deciding which of the two lovers was entitled to the possession of the squaw. Probably anticipating an adverse decision, which was to be rendered to-day, Little Sam by some means possessed himself of a Colt's navy revolver from the Indian police station and repaired about 8 o'clock in the evening to Mercer's house, where he found both his victims in bed together. Taking in the situation at a glance, he immediately proceeded to empty the contents of his six shooter into the bodies of both Mercer and the squaw, killing the latter instantly and mortally wounding Mercer. Little Sam then fled under the protection of some of his friends. They (Gleason and See) then captured the murderer after a chase of three miles, and brought him by order of the Reservation agent to Wadsworth.

Major T. J. Wooten, the Indian agent, in a letter to Ike Lothrop, fully corroborates the story told by his subordinates, additionally stating that the reason for sending the prisoner to Wadsworth was his fear of a lynching bee, as the excitement among the Indians ran very high upon learning the details of the tragedy. He concludes his letter in these words: "It was a deliberate and cold-blooded murder, done in a fit of jealousy."

Ike Lothrop in reply to a telegram sent to U. S. Marshal Humphreys at Carson, received word to hold the prisoner until further orders. Marshal Humphreys is expected to arrive here on No. 1 passenger train. Upon his arrival preparations for an inquest will be made. The Indians about Wadsworth participate likewise, in no small degree in the prevailing excitement. The prisoner maintains a stolid demeanor. He will not talk.

THE MURDERER SUICIDES. When at 4:30 P. M. the Deputy Marshal opened the cell to serve the evening meal, he was horror-stricken to find the prisoner hanging at the end of a rope, his toes just touching the floor, quite dead. The body, still warm, was immediately cut down.

The Deputy Marshal had taken every precaution to prevent a possible suicide. After a thorough search for concealed weapons or poison, the murderer was left in his solitary steel cage with no other clothing than a shirt, pants, overalls and jumper. The latter he had torn into strips and braided into a stout rope, which he fastened to the iron lattice work overhead.

Coroner Peers of Reno was telegraphed for. There will now be two inquests in order over three good Indians.

Just now Dr. Richardson, Reservation physician, brings word that Mercer, the wounded Indian, may recover.

THE CHURCHILL STATESMAN AS A SHOW-MAN. Hon. Lem Allen of Churchill county will this evening exhibit at the old Postoffice the greatest freak of nature ever beheld in Nevada, at the small sum of 25 cents. It is in the shape of a calf with two heads, killed at birth. It was born at his ranch last December. The left head is a trifle the larger. The two well-developed backbones merge into one at the coupling of the hip bones. It had two hearts, one set of lungs, one stomach, one set of bowels and four legs. There is no division in the chest. Taxidermist Lorquin of 1195 Market street, San Francisco, stuffed and mounted the animal.

With all the hard times in sight, Lem states that he would refuse $500 for his "Nevada Wonder."

OSCAR HILDEBRANDT. The Midnight Charge. This popular play will be presented at the Opera House, Friday evening, May 23rd, by the cast from the Reno Dramatic Club, for the joint benefit of O. M. Mitchell Post, G. A. R., and the Jr. O. U. A. M.

The cast includes Mr. B. F. Currier, Mr. N. E. Wilson, Mr. G. W. Perkins, T. E. DeLaMatry, Geo. Bliss, Byrd Bulmer, Jake Morris, Miss Lillian Mann, Mrs. B. O. Shearer and Miss Maud Brunette.

When Nature Needs assistance it may be best to render it promptly, but one should remember to use even the most perfect remedies only when needed. The next and most simple and gentle remedy is the Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Company.

SURPRISE VALLEY.

It Was Named by the Pioneer Peter Lassen.

Calvin Hall says in the Big Valley Gazette:

It has always been my understanding that Peter Lassen, after whom Lassen Butte, Lassen county, and Lassen Lodge, F. & A. M. were named, gave the valley the name of Surprise Valley in 1849, and afterwards gave a full description of the valley to the people of Honey Lake valley.

I was a member of Captain Mellon's Company C, 2d Reg. of Cal. Cav. Vol. in 1862. The Indians had been committing depredations, mostly on the road from Honey Lake valley to Granite Creek. Captain Mellon being informed of the fact, took about thirty men of his company and went to Susanville. There about twenty citizens joined us for the purpose of assisting in chastising the Indians and to find the Surprise Valley which Peter Lassen had mentioned and described. We then went to Smoke Creek and established our headquarters there. The only names of those from Susanville that I can recall to memory that went with us are Capt. Weatherlow, Henry Arnold, Ed. Townsend, and I think one of Judge Ward's sons.

At Smoke Creek we organized and struck out for the enemy. On Madeline Plains we came across a party of eight Indians; we made a running charge and at the first fire one Indian fell. We passed him and killed the other seven. When we went back to where the first Indian fell he was not there. We followed his track and soon became satisfied that he was not wounded, so we all concluded that he had played possum on us.

The second day after that we came to the top of a mountain where we were perhaps equally as much surprised to behold the beautiful valley below, as Peter Lassen or the surveying party was. It was agreed by all who went from Susanville to be the valley which Peter Lassen had described with its three lakes in it.

We went down into the valley near the lower end of the lower lake, thence out at the lower end to Deep Hole, thence to Smoke Creek, thence home via Susanville to Fort Crook.

Captain Star of Company E. of our regiment built Fort Bidwell with his company. Captain Mellon was about this time promoted to Major. In conclusion I will say Captain Mellon's company came to Fort Crook in the fall of 1861.

LA BELLE MARIE.

A Jammed House at the Theatre Last Night.

Long before 7 o'clock last night people could be seen wending their way to the Opera House. Manager Piper, anticipating the rush, had arranged a guard in front of the ticket window so that parties could pass through in single file and buy their tickets. Had this precaution not been taken, it would have been impossible to have handled the surging crowd that had gathered long before the doors were open. Long before 8 o'clock every seat was occupied and it is seldom that Reno has such a crowded theatre.

La Belle Marie, the beautiful society drama, was presented and the stage settings and elegant costumes were features of the play. Sam T. Shaw as Wampanoag, the commercial traveler, carried his part like a master, and had some of our knights of the road present he could have given them pointers on the business. His manner was easy and he had all of the pleasant, both in address and make-up, of the genial drummer, and no doubt could have sat down and told stories by the hour with any of them. He wins his audiences from the start and his whole-souled and affable style makes him a favorite on the stage and off of it.

Miss Jessie Shirley as Jean Ingleside and Mamie Dubois, showed a special adaptation to the part. Her French dialect was fine and her impressive manner in the lines that brought out her most effective parts, showed that she is an actress of ability. Each member of the combination deserves especial mention, and the troupe as a whole is one of the best that ever played in Reno. To-night "Foggy Ferry," a comedy, will be presented, and it is said that it is one of the best plays in the repertoire of Shaw's Big Company.

The Palace Dry Goods and Carpet House makes the special announcement of the receipt of an entire new line of white materials in plain, twilled and broadened silks, crepe silk, chiffon, dimities, organdies and batists, all of which are suitable material for graduating dresses. The Palace invites the graduates of '96 to call and inspect these goods. The prices for them are as low as any of those of any city in the United States, and the advantage of buying these goods, which one can see in large pieces, is surely a great one.

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM LANDER COUNTY.

An Important Survey—Accident at Machine Shop—President Stubbs' Lecture.

AUSTIN, Nevada, May 18, 1896. Dennis Scully, County Surveyor for Lander county, has recently been awarded by the Surveyor General a contract for making an important survey in the eastern part of Elko county, to establish a standard meridian and parallels for the location of townships.

The party, consisting of Mr. Scully, J. A. Miller, Jr., A. A. Flint, Ed. Cavanaugh, and Wm. A. Clifford, all of Austin, will leave for the scene of their work, this week or next.

Last Saturday an 18-inch emery wheel at the Union machine shops let go, bursting into thousands of fragments. Louis Rooker, engineer at the works, happened to be standing near and received several very dangerous wounds from the flying pieces of stone. Though still dangerously low it is thought he will recover.

One piece of the wheel was hurled through a solid brick wall, tearing out a hole some 18 inches long, and falling nearly 100 feet from the building.

On Saturday afternoon President Stubbs of the State University arrived from Reno, and in the evening delivered a lecture upon the need of university education, to a large and most appreciative audience. The President's lecture was timely and interesting, and he succeeded most admirably in showing the need for such an education and how even the poorest may acquire it. Sunday morning and evening he filled the pulpit of the M. E. Church. C.

THE MEETING TO-NIGHT. It Should Be Well Attended.

As is generally understood, a call signed by many citizens of various political and religious views, has been issued for a meeting to be held at the Courthouse at 8 o'clock this evening for the purpose of selecting two or more candidates to be voted for at the school election next Monday. It is to be hoped that there will be a good attendance and that capable persons will be selected for Trustees, as the welfare of the public schools depends to a great extent upon those chosen to manage them.

The law providing for the election of Trustees in May was passed for the purpose of keeping school affairs out of politics. Under the old system, politics entered largely into school management, as the Trustees were nominated by partisan conventions and voted for at general elections. Every intelligent person knows that it is immaterial what a person's politics are or what church he attends if he makes a good School Trustee. The constitution prohibits the teaching of sectarianism in the public schools, and the people should prevent politics from entering into the election of School Trustees. Reno is proud of its public schools and every good citizen should use his influence to maintain their efficiency.

Married.

C. W. Patterson of the Yerington Rustler, and Miss Mabel Penrose of Gold Hill, were married at Yerington last Sunday. That accounts for the action of Mr. Patterson in leaving the Press Association at Oakland and hurrying home. The JOURNAL wishes Mr. and Mrs. Patterson smooth sailing on the matrimonial sea.

Miss Jessie Shirley. Miss Jessie Shirley, the leading lady of Shaw's Big Company, was in Reno in 1879, and as a little girl gave an evening of select readings. The evening Gazette of August 26, 1879 gave her a highly complimentary notice, of which the following is an extract: "She presents wonderful powers for one so young. Her readings in Eureka were warmly praised, and no one should miss the opportunity of hearing her." She has since then adopted the stage as her profession and never fails to give the most eminent satisfaction wherever she appears.

If you want to enjoy a first-class comic song, get a copy of "Parson Johnson's Chicken Brigade," by Lee Johnson. The Zeno Maurais Music Co., of 769 Market St., San Francisco, who publish the song, have sent us a copy, and it is a real work of art.

My Nerves are weak, many people say, and yet they do not seem to know that they are literally starving their nerves. Weak, pale, thin blood cannot give proper sustenance—that is why you are nervous, tired, exhausted. The cure for this condition is to purify, vitalize and enrich your blood. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla fairly and faithfully, and the rich, red blood, which it makes, will soon feed the nerves the elements of true strength they require; they will cease their agitation and will resume their proper place—being under the control instead of controlling the brain and body. Read Miss Bartley's letter:

"I want to express my gratitude for what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. My health has been poor for three years, due to trouble with my kidneys."

I was nervous, had pains in my back. I cannot tell what I suffered. My eyesight became affected and I was so despondent I did not have any interest in life. I had two physicians, but my complaints became worse. I was told that I was affected with Bright's disease. A relative urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I did so and in a short time I began to notice a change in my condition. Things began to appear brighter, my eyes improved and did not trouble me so severely. My appetite returned and I gained strength every day. I am now able to do my own work, and feel perfectly well. I cannot find words to express my gratitude for what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me and I gladly recommend it." Miss ELLA BARTLEY, 2334 S. Grant Ave., Columbus, Ohio.
